

AnthroTronix

September 16, 2008

Bob Coleman started working with myself and my employees in March of 2002. He continued his association with AnthroTronix until he left the area in February of 2007. His calm energy and therapeutic talents, was an asset to our office. Bob listened to our needs and used various healing techniques to bring much needed relief. He also offered suggestions, which helped improve the on-going well being of each individual.

He will be an asset to any organization who employs and makes use of his eclectic knowledge and expertise.
